

CODE BULLETIN C-65

American Chemistry Council Product Approval Code of Practice March 2024 Edition

To: Practitioners of the American Chemistry Council Product Approval Code of Practice and Interested Parties

Original Issue date: February 29, 2024

Effective Date: March 30, 2024

Re: Product Approval Code of Practice – March 2024 Edition Including Appendix H rewording for Clarification and Appendix C Address Update

The American Chemistry Council's (ACC) Product Approval Protocol Task Group (PAPTG) reached consensus to issue the March 2024 Edition of the Code of Practice. This edition incorporates Code Bulletin C-64. This edition also incorporates the revision contained herein to Appendix H for the purpose of increased clarity for the Guidelines for Specific Tests and the revision to Appendix C for the purpose of updating the ACC Monitoring Agency's address.

Existing text and proposed edits to the relevant Appendices are provided below.

Existing Text on Page H-2

Decrease in the treatment level of the performance additive package components other than for rebalances (Guidelines 5 and 6) and/or pour point depressant and/or foam inhibitor (Guideline 9) is not allowed.

Proposed Text on Page H-2

Decrease in the treatment level of performance additive package components is not allowed. Exceptions to this rule include component rebalances (see Guidelines 5 & 6); changes to pour point depressant (see Guideline 9); and changes to foam inhibitor (see Guideline 9).
